Why Gandhi Jayanti ?

“Be the change that you wish to see in the world.” – Mahatma Gandhi

Like days and nights, time and tide there happens change in this world – every second. Change is indispensable and we humans should learn to accept the changes in life. One who learns to adapt to the change is smart. But one who brings the change he or she wishes in the world makes history.

Rightly said by Mahatma Gandhi “We should be the change we want to see in the world”.

MAHATMA GANDHI JAYANTI (2nd October)

Gandhi Jayanti is a national festival celebrated in India to mark the occasion of the birthday of Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi, who is called the "Father of the Nation". Mahatma Gandhi more lovingly known as 'Bapu' by all Indians is internationally acknowledged for his doctrine of non-violence that led India to its glorious freedom and this year marks his 152nd birth anniversary.

Abide with me

Whenever we think of Bapu, two words come to our mind – truth and non-violence. Bapu was a staunch believer of these ideals and preached that honesty was the virtue of being truthful to self and society. Even as years roll by, the Gandhian principles remain evergreen and hold power to enlighten the entire world. This principle of truthfulness to self and to the world is essential for students in the current context to excel in future life.

Celebration in Loyola International School

In order to imbibe Gandhi's ideology, our school has commemorated his birth anniversary by organizing a plethora of activities and programs to sensitize his noble ethos amongst our children.

The children showcased their talent and zeal through role play and character play. Also, by poster making on Gandhiji's biography and craft activities to understand his principles better. Thus, paid homage and tribute to our Father of Nation. Gandhi for his selfless contribution in freedom struggle and his persistent struggle to obtain freedom from the clutches of British regime is worth mentioning. Service to mankind, importance of truth, brotherhood, peace, non-violence, equality and simplicity are some of the epitomes and ethics taught by Gandhi. The speeches by the students articulated and reflected the beliefs held by Mahatma Gandhi. They saw a video on Gandhiji's life and reflected on the great work done by him for India. It was a day full of joy as well as patriotic fervor

As responsible parents and educators, our aim is to nurture qualities of fairness, compassion, courage, integrity, empathy, humility, loyalty and courtesy. To inculcate these virtues in the minds of children is indeed a Herculean task. Let us also unite to make our earth violence-free from terrorism and other sorts of atrocities for future generations to lead a blissful life.

KG Activities

Character day - 9th Sept

Our tiny little tots dressed up as their favourite cartoon characters and spoke about them. The pure joy on their faces was mesmerising filling the atmosphere with colourful hues.

Walking in the Jungle Activity

With over half of the world's plant and animal species living in some type of jungle, it is important that we cherish them and protect them. Our little kindergarteners learnt all about jungle and animals in "Walking in the jungle" activity. Teachers created a mini jungle and the students made face masks
